Commercial Use

Arizona Public Records Law, ARS 39-121.03 et seq requires that persons requesting records for a commercial purpose must provide a certified statement setting forth the commercial purpose for which the records are requested. As used in this section, commercial purpose is defined as: “the use of a public record for the purpose of sale or resale or the purpose of producing a document containing all or part of the copy, printout or photograph for sale or the obtaining of names and addresses from such public records for the purpose of solicitation or the sale of such names and addresses to another for the purpose of solicitation or for any purpose in which the purchaser can reasonably anticipate the receipt of monetary gain from the direct or indirect use of such public record.”

A person designating a non-commercial purpose is certifying that the request is not made for business, monetary, economic, commercial or trade reasons, and that neither the requester nor the person which may utilize the information contained in the record as a result of access by the requester will receive economic benefit or gain from utilization of information contained in the record.

An individual who knowingly falsifies his certificate for a document under these provisions is guilty of a Class 6 Felony. Further, any person who obtains a public record for a non-commercial purpose and uses or knowingly allows the use of such record for a commercial purpose or who obtains a public record for commercial purpose and uses or knowingly allows the use of such public record for a different commercial purpose or who obtains a public record from anyone other than the custodian of such records and uses them for a commercial purpose shall be liable to the state or the political subdivision for the amount of three times the actual damages if it can be shown that the public record would not have been provided had the commercial purpose or actual use been state at the time of obtaining the records.
